8.1.3 Peculiar Pieces

Challenge 1

Gossiping

During the week end, it is possible to use the gaps between the session to gossip about a particular piece. A player has to work for a few hours to influence the global behavior of the audience.

A roll can be done every 15 minutes. Sum up the total margins before the session start to see how the action was. 10 margin gives a 1 gossip influence.

The rolls:

- PRE knavery DV 15
- INT Persuasion DV 15
- TEM Forgery DV 10
- PRE Arts DV 15
- PRE Art(specialty) DV 5 with the specialty in the domain.

Observation Round

This is a ritual that takes place between two sessions and prior to the first, everybody has the opportunity to have a look at the pieces that are going to be sold. No one can touch a piece, and the preservation distance is of one meter. There is a rope tight at that distance to prevent people from going to close anyway. Lasers sensors are however there (TECH+sensor DV 20 or DV 15 with relevant device).

Procurer: Julia Coldobert of L'Académie

Description:

This modern statue (4977 AD) represents a man pray in front of an altar. The man wears only pants and his whole chest and arms bears tattoos. He seems like an ukari repenting in front of the Pancreator, even if the physionomy of the character is too much human-like (the skull is absolutely not the of the obun/ukar shape). Most people thinks it's about the poor talent of the author (Urban Kassedra). This statue 3 feet high statue has changed owner about 50 times since 4981 AD (the death of Kassedra).

Notes:

The statue is representing an urthish man. When looking farther, his tattoos are not baa'mon but stylized letters forming sentences all around its body in latin. Spending a few weeks on the pieces will provide the true path to path to Master Kizé Ando, the last master of the Cloaking path.

A half broken robot head dating from second republic (3955 AD). It's very human like, but the synthflesh parts have been removed a long time ago to have it more obvious that this is technological. Very impressive details on this head.

Notes:

This robot head still contains part of a operational pygmallium brain. If properly repaired, it shows a spark of consciousness and most of all, it can act as a special device able to store up to three jump routes. It only has to be plugged to a ship sentient and the robot, named Magellan, will store jumproutes on demand.

An interesting sculpture showing a kneeling hugging couple. The male is the one stuck to the base, but the feminine character is floating in his arms. It seems that the pieces have been made of the same block but the girl has been magnetized afterward. It seems to be a bronze scene at 1:1 scale.

Notes:

The center of the feminine statue is a real repulsive magnet. It's a prowess per se to build such a piece of art, but nothing more.

An ancient but very well preserved Van Gelder cutlass, a sort of partly curved rapier. The sigil on the base of the blade, approximately 1cm diameter is a true mark from master swordsmith Piotr Kenan. This is the original. This weapon was used by the infamous Gerald Van Gelder five centuries ago, and it used it to kill more than 665 decados nobles with it, so the legend tells. During his last battle, he decided to show mercy to his last prey that killed in the back. Radik Decados kept the blade, but committed suicide with that same blade a few weeks later.

Notes:

The sword is cursed. The new owner of this blade will be the subject of strange dreams about sword fighting, hearing a voice in the background apparently reading rules of fencing (the voice is Gerald's). After each dream, check TEM+Stoic Mind vs DV 20. If failed, a random SPIRIT attribute point is lost. If passed, a melee point is earned and a fencing technique is discovered. Narrative

Very famous poet from Rampart, Avaneir. He authored close to twenty five plays and three volumes of poetry. Hated by House Li Halan for his Republican ideals and a certain taste of romanticism close to luxury according to their strict beliefs.

Has better relations with the Métier than he has with House D'Rouge-Glace, however it is widely known that Lady Mireille is a true amateur of his work.
